

PHI BETA KAPPA
FELLOWS LECTURESHIP PANEL
SOUTHEAST
2008-2009

Matt Cartmill, Professor of Anthropology, Boston University
Research Professor of Evolutionary Anthropology, Duke University

Mary L. Good, Dean and University Professor, Donaghey College of Information Science and Systems Engineering, University of Arkansas at Little Rock

Harvey E. Klehr, Andrew W. Mellon Professor of Politics and History, Emory University

Patricia Yancey Martin, Emerita Professor of Sociology, Florida State University

Thomas G. Palaima, Raymond F. Dickson Centennial Professor, University of Texas at Austin

Sue V. Rosser, Dean, Ivan Allen College/Liberal Arts College, Georgia Institute of Technology

*****

PROCEDURAL INFORMATION

Speakers listed above are available to Phi Beta Kappa chapters and associations for single lectures during the current academic year. Biographical information for each panel member is provided on the following page. Although not specifically noted in the sketches, all speakers are members of Phi Beta Kappa.

Invitations must be extended through the Washington office. If your group would like to invite a speaker, send a list of your preferences to the Fellows Lectureship, Phi Beta Kappa Society, 1606 New Hampshire Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20009, or to the following e-mail address, knavascues@pbk.org. Please include in your letter information on proposed dates, a suggested time for the lecture, and the type of occasion. An invitation will then be extended to your choices in the order ranked until an acceptance is received.

Once the invitation has been accepted, you will be notified and asked to write to the speaker of the detailed arrangements being made for the visit. It should be emphasized that the speaker is invited for a single lecture only.

The Washington office pays directly to the speaker an honorarium plus all travel and en route expenses. Chapters and associations participating in the Lectureship will be responsible for a $500 service fee to help defray the cost of the engagement. The sponsors are also expected to take care of housing, meals, and local airport transportation.

*****

Matt Cartmill Professor of biological anthropology and anatomy, Duke University; member of faculty since 1969. Recipient, Duke University Scholar/Teacher of the Year Award and the Duke Medical Alumni Distinguished Teaching Award. Past president, American Association of Physical Anthropologists. Fellow, AAAS. Fellowships, grants: NIH, Guggenheim Foundation, NSF, Leakey Foundation. Phi Beta Kappa Visiting Scholar, 1999-2000. Author, A View to a Death in the Morning: Hunting and Nature Through History (Howells Award, American Anthropological Association; Marsh Book Award, American Society for Environmental History); co-author, Human Structure; former editor-in-chief, American Journal of Physical Anthropology. Research interests: bipedal locomotion; origin and differentiation of primates; evolution of arboreal adaptations in mammals; evolution of the carotid arteries and basicranium; origins of higher primates; evolutionary psychology; animal consciousness; theoretical systematics; history of ideas; history and philosophy of science.

Mary L. Good Dean and University Professor, Donaghey College of Information Science and Systems Engineering, University of Arkansas at Little Rock. Under Secretary for Technology, Department of Commerce, 1992-96. Former senior vice-president of technology, Allied Signal, Inc. Former faculty member, University of New Orleans, Louisiana State University. Chair, National Science Board, 1988-91. Past president and fellow, AAAS (Abelson prize for outstanding achievements); past president, American Chemical Society; elected member, National Academy of Engineering; member, American Institute of Chemists, Royal Society of Chemistry. Recipient, National Science Foundation Distinguished Service Medal; American Chemical Society Priestly Medal.

Harvey E. Klehr Andrew W. Mellon Professor of Politics and History, Emory University; Dobbs Professor of Politics, 1985-96; chairman, political science department, 1989-95; member of faculty since 1971. Visiting Exchange Scholar, Beijing University. Emory University Scholar-Teacher of the Year; Emory Williams Distinguished Teaching Award for Emory College. Alumni Citation, Franklin & Marshall College. Member, National Council on the Humanities. Director, NEH summer seminars for school teachers. Fellowships, grants: Bradley Foundation, Smith Richardson Foundation, Earhart Foundation, Institute for Educational Affairs, Emory University. Former Senator, Phi Beta Kappa Society. Author or co-author, Early Cold War Spies; In Denial: Historians, Communism, and Espionage; Venona: Decoding Soviet Espionage in America; The Soviet World of American Communism; The Amerasia Spy Case: Prelude to McCarthyism; The Secret World of American Communism; The American Communist Movement: Storming Heaven Itself; Far Left of Center: The American Radical Left Today; Biographical Dictionary of the American Left (co-editor, author of 46 entries); The Heyday of American Communism: The Depression Decade; Communist Cadre: The Social Background of the American Communist Party Elite. Research interests: modern political theory, Marxism, American political theory, American politics, American radicalism. Suggested lecture topics: "Treason of the Clerks? How Historians Evaluate Communism"; "Soviet Espionage in the United States: Recent Revelations from the Venona Documents"; "Reevaluating McCarthyism: What the Russian Archives Tell Us"; "The Amerasia Spy Case"; "Jews and the American Left."

Patricia Yancey Martin Emerita professor of sociology, 2008--, Florida State University; professor of sociology, 1980-2007; Daisy Parker Flory Professor, 1989-2007; joined the faculty in 1969. Recipient, numerous Distinguished Teaching Awards, FSU. Distinguished Visiting Professor: Ruhr University (Germany); Gothenburg University (Sweden); Univerita degli Studi di Trento (Italy); University of Illinois at Chicago; University of Delaware; Ohio State University; University of Tennessee; Hoefel Distinguished Scholar in Residence, Alma College; Braithwaite Distinguished Women's Studies Lecturer, College of William and Mary; Distinguished Feminist Lecturer, Sociologists for Women in Society. Fulbright fellow, 2008 (Sweden). Jocher-Bead Distinguished Contributions to Gender Award, Southern Sociological Society. 2006 Feminist Activism Award, Sociologists for Women in Society; 2007 Jessie Bernard Award, American Sociological Association. 2003 Best Paper Award, Journal of Human Relations, Volume 55; 2004 Distinguished Article Award, Section on Sex and Gender, American Sociological Association. Associate editor, American Sociological Review. Author, Rape Work: Victims, Gender & Emotions in Organization & Community Context; co-editor, Feminist Organizations: Harvest of the New Women's Movement. Fields of interest: gender and work; violence against women (including work with rape victims); sociology of organizations; women's movements and movement organizations; sociology of the body.

Thomas G. Palaima Raymond F. Dickson Centennial Professor and director, Program in Aegean Scripts and Prehistory, University of Texas at Austin, 1991--; member of faculty since 1986; recipient, 2004 Texas Exes Holloway Award for Excellence in Teaching, 2005 Plan II Honors Program Chad Oliver Teaching Award. Former faculty member, Fordham University. MacArthur Fellow, 1985-90. Visiting professor, University of Uppsala, 1992, 94, 98, 2001; Fulbright Gastprofessor, University of Salzburg, 1992-93; Fulbright Profesor Visitante, Universidad Autonoma de Barcelona, 2007. Author, The Scribes of Pylos and The Triple Invention of Writing in Cyprus and Written Sources for Cypriote History; co-author or co-editor of six other books. Co-editor, Aegaeum monograph series, 1993--, and Minos: Revista de Filologia Egea, 1995--. Book reviews and commentary writing, 1999-- (Austin American-Statesman, Times Higher Education, Texas Observer). Special interests: ancient writing systems and ancient Greek history; war and violence in ancient and modern societies; Greek prehistory and Homer; folk music and social criticism. Possible lecture topics: "Home Front and War Front in Ancient and Modern Times"; "Ritual and Feasting in the Real Homeric Age"; "Evaluating the Present by Evaluating the Past and Vice Versa."

Sue V. Rosser Dean, Ivan Allen College/Liberal Arts College, Georgia Institute of Technology; professor of history, technology, and society; and professor of public policy, 1999--; recipient, Outstanding Faculty Woman of Achievement Award. Director of Center for Women's Studies and Gender Research, University of Florida, 1995-99; senior program officer for women's programs, National Science Foundation, 1994-95. Former faculty member, University of South Carolina, Mary Baldwin College. Fellow, American Association for Women in Science (AWIS), AAAS. Sigma Xi Distinguished Lecturer, 2006-08. Author, The Science Glass Ceiling: Academic Women Scientists and the Struggle to Succeed (2004); Women, Science, and Society: The Crucial Union (2000); Re-Engineering Female Friendly Science (1997); Women's Health: Missing from U.S. Medicine (1994); Feminism and Biology ("Choice" Outstanding Academic Book Award for 1993). Co-editor, Women, Gender, and Technology (2006) and editor, Women, Science and Myth (2008).